Charles L. Robbins, Former Resident Here, Dies In California

Charles Leonard Robbins, born in Northfield, Feb. 14, 1859, died at his home in Lemon Grove near San Diego, Calif., on Thursday, Feb. 11, according to information received here this week. His funeral was held on Monday, Feb. 15 with the Rev. Orson F. Jones officiating at the Bonham Mortuary in San Diego. The music was by George Maddox, soloist and Mollie Thomson, organist. Burial was in Mount Hope cemetery.

Mr. Robbins had been in failing health for some time but became seriously ill only eleven days before his death.

He left Northfield to make his home in California in 1926 but he always cherished his days here and his many friends who now mourn his loss. He was a man of sterling character, a Christian gentleman, whose kindness and goodness will be remembered by many. For twenty-seven years he conducted, as a partner in Robbins and Evans, the large general store which served the people of this community. For thirty-five years he acted as Moderator of the town and was always interested in the activities of the community. He stood for clean and honest government. A member of the Unitarian Congregational church since its incorporation he served as a deacon from 1897 and as its treasurer from 1899. On Dec. 27, 1910 he married Clara Hooper and they had one child, Grace C. Robbins, both of whom survive him. He also leaves a brother, Herbert E. Robbins of Williamstown, Vt. Northfield holds in reverent memory, Charles Leonard Robbins.

FORTNIGHTLY

This Friday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, Mrs. Katherine Osborn will speak on "Romance of Fabric" at Alexander hall. Mrs. Walter Hyde will be the hostess. Mrs. Osborn is outstanding in her particular field: recently she lectured in Boston to an audience of 500 people. The exhibition of her treasures will be worth while. These she has gathered in her world travels.

The two recent meetings of the Study Group have been most interesting. Mrs. Montague entertained for Miss Lawley's talk on Mass. Educational Facilities, who substituted for Miss Dalton, and gave a very comprehensive talk on her subject, it being in her own field of work. Miss Julia Austin read interesting poems. Mrs. Charles Johnson opened her home for the meeting last Friday evening. Mrs. Edgar Livingston spoke on Mass. State Holidays. She was assisted by Mrs. Walter Hyde who spoke on New Year's our oldest holiday. Miss Helen Vorce on Flag Day; Mrs. Donald Williams, Labor Day; Mrs. Dana Leavis, Columbus Day. Mrs. Livingston treated the other holidays bringing out, that there are but seven that are really nationally observed. Others are local, such as our own 17th of June. Some observed by special groups, like St. Patrick's Day.

A holiday-jingle game livened the meeting, as did many of the songs sung. The next meeting of the Study group will be held on March 5 with Mrs. Pefferle as hostess. Mrs. Frank Montague will speak on Mass. Historical Shrines.

Chosen Jurors Of The Superior Court

The March session of the Superior court will open at the court house, Greenfield, on Monday, March 8, with Justice T. J. Hammon of Northampton, presiding. Among those chosen as grand jurors are Albin E. Franz of Mt. Hermon and Fred A. Irish of Northfield. The traverse jurors include none from this town. Many important cases will be heard before the court.

Adah Night

The Northfield chapter, O. E. S. will hold its first meeting of the year on Wednesday, March 3. It will be Adah Night and an entertainment with refreshments will follow the business session. All rehearsals of all officers will be held the Monday evening previous. The sessions will be at the Masonic hall.

Our basketball team enjoyed two games with Mt. Hermon this week Monday, the result was a tie 17-17 and Wednesday evening a defeat was suffered 24-22.

Cong. Treadway Opposes Court Change Voters Here Pleased

Ever since the President's proposal to change the judiciary was received by Congress a storm of protest has come up from the American people and our Senators and Congressmen have been deluged with letters and telegrams from their constituency. Polls that are being taken show a decided vote of opinion against the proposition and even in Washington something of a "tempest" is created among Democrats and Republicans alike. Our Congressman, Allen T. Treadway, in commenting upon the situation said in Stockbridge recently that "America is indignant and aroused. No proposal from the White House during the last 50 years has aroused such a violent storm. The people of the entire nation grasp the true implications of the President's proposals. The bill sent to Congress with Mr. Roosevelt's message, whether so intended or not, carries the unmistakable earmarks of a step toward dictatorship."

"In this connection, I am reminded of a celebrated utterance by one of Massachusetts' great statesmen of an earlier day. No one has better summarized the attitude of the good-intentioned autocrat than did Daniel Webster nearly a century ago, when he said:

"It is hardly too strong to say that the Constitution was made to guard the people against the dangers of good intentions, real or pretended. . . . There are men in all ages who mean to exercise power usefully—but who mean to exercise it. They mean to govern well; but they mean to govern; they promise to be kind masters, but they mean to be masters. They think they need but little restraint upon themselves. Their notion of the public interest is apt to be quite closely connected with their own exercise of authority. . . . The love of power may sink too deep in their own hearts even for their own security."

Expressions of opinion in Northfield on the President's proposal as gathered by this paper, definitely shows a decided feeling against meddling with the Supreme Court. It is the bulwark of our freedom and our liberties. Northfield will support our Congressman in the position which he has taken.

Hostel Train Trip

There will be a group of American Youth Hostel members leave the last of June for the West Coast for a 10,000-mile trip from Canada to the West Coast of the United States, returning the first of September.

They will leave Northfield for Montreal; using a Canadian National pullman car converted into a Rolling Hostel. This is furnished with bunks for boys and girls, with a kitchen at one end, where the young people will do their own cooking. The trip includes Vancouver, Seattle, California, Salt Lake, Denver and St. Louis. Bicycles are transported free of charge. The Rolling Hostel will make stops so the group will hike around the hostels located in the territory; there will be stop-overs if desired.

All this for $195; a wonderful chance for our young people to see the country and get a summer vacation, real fun and good times.

Library Chinese Exhibit

The Dickinson Memorial Library is showing a very interesting display of Chinese embroidery, pottery, coins, jade and jewelry. It has been gathered with painstaking effort and should be seen by our citizens. If any one has any additional articles of interest that have come from China and are willing to loan the same to the exhibit, kindly call the librarian to arrange. All articles will be safely cared for during the two weeks of the exhibit.

If you own an automobile and it is registered in Massachusetts you have one of the 590,051 registered vehicles as of Feb. 1, recorded in this state. The total figure is the highest ever recorded and is 60,778 greater than the number of last year.

North Dakota is the first state to abolish compulsory military training in its schools and colleges. It is a victory for the Farmers' Union and they are to be congratulated. It's about time to abandon the fascist idea of militarism in this country.

Northfield Beautiful

Oh Northfield beautiful, with they grand and stately trees,
Thy name has traveled far over many seas,
And people come from every land to linger in thy vale,
And wonder at God's handiwork in wood, and hill, and dale.

A town of wondrous beauty, that stands for noble things,
A place where God is worshipped and all nature sings,
A constant song of hope and peace and rest,
And on thy sacred round top the evening hours are best.

Thou art humble in thy beauty for we know thou couldst unfold
Stories wild and tragic, too, many to be told,
Of the Indians in the past who trod thy peaceful streets,
Leaving death and desolation as they went with hurrying feet.

And there came from within thy borders, as from a town of old,
A man of simple origin, yet full of faith and bold,
A man whose name the whole world round, shall echo evermore
For D. L. Moody is known from shore to shore.

So we hail thee Northfield beautiful, and as a great and glorious star
May you go down the ages gleaming afar,
And all thy sons and daughters rise up and call the blessed,
And honor shall come unto you from the East and from the West.

Sap Runs Again

From Vermont comes word that the sap is beginning to run from the rock maples, a sure sign of spring. It is expected that there will be a bountiful supply of maple syrup as a consequence. Ice-cutting up there has not ended nor has a sign been noted of the incoming birds like the robin and blue bird yet the weather is mild and comfortable and heavy coats, sweaters and mufflers are not necessary when one is working. Here in Northfield too, is the coming sign of spring everywhere evident. The snow and ice is slowly disappearing and the ski paths give way to the tramp of feet in the merry pilgrimage of our young folks through the woodlands and the hills.

Edwin Markham, the author of "The Man with the Hoe" who appeared before the students at Northfield Seminary a few years ago, has been declared incompetent to handle his affairs by the Supreme Court of Brooklyn, N. Y., which is his home. A commissioner will be appointed to handle his estate. Markham is 85 years of age.

Saw A Rainbow

Last Monday morning was ushered in with heavy rain and high winds which continued much of the day but a rare privilege was afforded to many, however, who about ten o'clock saw in the western sky a fine rainbow with all its varied colors. Earlier in the morning a large pine tree on the highway to Hinsdale, near the Mitchell home, was uprooted and crashed to the road carrying with it the electric wires which left the northern end of the town without service for about an hour until repairs were made by an emergency crew.

Dunnell To Be Host

Leon Dunnell is to be the host for the next meeting of the Young People's Social club on Monday evening, March 1, from 7:30 to 10:00 o'clock. He and a group of friends will provide an unusual program of music and entertainment and members are looking forward to an evening of rare pleasure. The sessions of the club will hereafter meet every other week instead of weekly as formerly.

Alumnae Chronicle

The special Centenary number of the Northfield Alumnae Chronicle under date of February, 1937, has made its appearance and the cover is a work of art from the printer's press. Printed in blue with the title in white relief the cover contains a picture of the birthplace taken with surrounding snows during a recent storm. The contents are of much interest to the graduates of the Seminary who desire to keep in touch with the memories and development of school days. An abridged sermon of Mr. Moody on Mary and Martha is the leading article in the magazine.

The total unprecedented debt of the United States is $34,500,000,000 and there are 129,000,000 inhabitants. If it became necessary to wipe out and pay this debt you and I would be called upon to pay our share which is $267.36 per person. Verily we are ever in debt.

HERMON NEWS

A week ago Wednesday, Mount Hermon's second string hockey sextet lost to a racey Vermont Academy varsity by the score of 4-2. Vermont's Blougett tallied in the first period and again in the last period. Boeing, Harmon, scored in the second and third periods, assisted by Lührssen. Smith and Blood also scored for Vermont.

Last Saturday the Hermon basketball team was subdued by Vermont Academy by the score of 21-20. Early in the first period Hermon gained a substantial lead, but by steady playing, the Vermonters pulled their score up until the last period when a full gained the extra point. Holcombe gained eight points for Hermon. This was the first effort of the varsity to break the four-year jinx which has persisted. This Saturday another chance will be had when they meet Williston at Williston.

Also on Saturday, the wrestling team defeated the mat-grapplers from Loomis to the tune of 20-16. Before the last match the score was 16-15 in favor of the Loomis team. Then Lefty Warden of Hermon threw his man in a little over a minute giving the match to Hermon. Last Wednesday the second team went to Mass. State College where they met the freshman team. Saturday, the first team goes to Williamstown where they meet the Williams Frosh.

The swimming match at Gardner last Saturday was won by the Gardner team. Practice for the swimmers was delayed because of the scarlet fever epidemic, but in spite of this the second team took top honors at Gardner. Tomorrow, Saturday, the swimmers will meet Deerfield in the home pool.

On Monday the Hermon varsity defeated the Northfield varsity in a scrimmage here by the score of 18-17. The last period of the game was cut short because of previous study-hall engagements for the players.

Friday the 19th, the senior class at Hermon held their annual banquet at the Northfield hotel. The Hermonites provided music for the banqueters who sang Hermon ditties led by a quartet of twenty. Guests at the party were Mr. Porter, Mr. Rickett, Dr. Strong, Mr. Ambert G. Moody and Mr. A. Gordon Moody. After several cheers the dinner party broke up and were taken back to Hermon and a delayed study-hall.

The speaker last Sunday at Memorial chapel was Preacher, Ralph S. Harlow of Smith college. Dr. Harlow's message was on the values of religion. He pointed out how religion gives us insight and foresight. These powers he said enable us to put ourselves in the other person's place and thereby understand better his feelings, in order that we may act accordingly.

Last Thursday, a meeting of the Woman's Missionary society was held at the "Y" building at Mt. Hermon. The meeting was devoted to sewing.

On Sunday, at Mr. Porter's residence, a tea was given for all new students. Dr. Porter told stories and experiences of his first year at Hermon.

Speaking from the Memorial chapel pulpit next Sunday is Rev. Charles Wesley Burns at the morning service and Rev. Robert M. Russell of Larchmont, N. Y., at the Vespers service.

The entertainment at Camp hall this Saturday will be the picture "Ski Chase." The picture will begin at 8:15.

Congregational Club Marks Anniversary At Its Gathering

The Franklin County Congregational club held a well attended meeting at the Mansion House in Greenfield last Tuesday evening and many members from Northfield attended. It was the 30th anniversary of its founding and over twenty of its charter members are still living. Ambert G. Moody is its president and presided at its session.

The club enjoyed a most appetizing banquet at six o'clock and the program of speakers included Rev. John A. Hawley of Amherst, Rev. Charles W. Merriam of Deerfield and Rev. W. S. Anderson of Greenfield.

They stressed the need for the presence of such a club in these times and foretold its continuance in the future as a powerful asset to the church in the county. They pointed out how the club has acted as a whole-some influence in the advancement of needed moral and civic reforms and illustrated their conception of the position of esteem it holds among laity and clergy alike by pointing to the number of prominent church leaders who have been its guests as speakers from time to time.

At the time of its inception there were about 100 members, but today it has an enrollment of nearly 200. It has adhered closely to the purpose set forth in its constitution, "To promote social life and fellowship among the Congregationalists of the county, to consider civic and religious matters of general importance, and to undertake any public work for which such an organization may be fitted."

The music of the evening was provided by a double quartet from the Amherst College glee club whose selections were roundly applauded. Their final effort was the singing of "Lord Jeffrey."

The following were chosen as officers for the ensuing year: President, Ambert G. Moody; Rev. Lester P. White, vice-president; Grove W. Deming, secretary; Miss Myra L. Hillman, treasurer; Frank A. Yeaw, auditor; Dr. A. P. Pratt, chairman; Willard Haskell and Mrs. George C. Hubbard, reception committee; Deane Jones, Rev. George K. Carter and Roy R. Hatch, membership committee; Rev. W. S. Anderson, chairman; Albert E. Roberts and Miss Anna Koch, outlook committee. The nominating committee consisted of Frank A. Yeaw, chairman; Rev. George K. Carter and Mrs. Geo. C. Hubbard.

Thomas A. Dollard

Thomas Aquinas Dollard, prominent civil engineer, died at his home on Main street after a brief illness with pneumonia, on Wednesday morning at the age of 60 years.

Mr. Dollard was born in New Orleans, the son of John and Margaret (Leonard) Dollard of England. After he was graduated as a civil engineer from the Mass. Institute of Technology, Mr. Dollard traveled extensively on various construction projects. Fourteen years ago he married Margaret Callaghan of Northfield and had made his home here ever since.

A Requiem high Mass will be held at St. Patrick's church this Friday morning at nine o'clock. Rev. J. Mitchell officiating. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery.

Clarence Lowe

Clarence Lowe of the Ashuelot road died at his home on Wednesday, Feb. 17, at the age of 71 years. He came to Northfield about 11 years ago from Athol and bought the small farm which he has cultivated and used since. Surviving are his wife, Nettie Lowe, and one daughter, Vera, who is a teacher in the public schools of Portland, Me. The funeral was held last Saturday at the home with Rev. W. Stanley Carne officiating. Neighbors acted as his pall bearers and interment was in the family plot in the cemetery at North Vernon.

Local Motorists In Court

Last Tuesday before Judge J. W. Field, in the Municipal court at Hinsdale, George Lombard was fined $50 and costs of $12.74 for improper driving in Winchester on February 12.

The case of R. G. Sauter, Sr., for causing property damage in an accident in Greenfield will be heard before Judge Ball on March 11.

To Try Out Plan Of Old Age Pension

An experiment is to be effected of the so-called Townsend old-age pension plan in Greenfield and Mrs. Carrie Saben has been chosen as the recipient of the $200 which is to be spent within a period of thirty days. Homer Sherman, president of the Greenfield Townsend club says that the date for its trial has not yet been fixed.

Regarding the prospects of the experiment here, Mr. Sherman said that if $20 or more is returned to the club in the form of the 2 per cent transaction tax, the experiment will be considered a success.

"If the Townsend plan were in operation," he explained, "only 10 per cent of the population would be annuitants, which would mean that there would be nine times as many people spending as there were receiving. Since there are 1400 people over 60 in this town, according to my figures it would mean that the plan would realize $280,000 in Greenfield alone."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Saben, thrilled over the honor given her, said that she wish to take the opportunity to thank all those who had assisted in the work.

Romeo and Juliet

The management of the Auditorium Theatre, Brattleboro, has the honor to announce the presentation of William Shakespeare's greatest poetic drama, "Romeo and Juliet," starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard.

This immortal love story, containing the universal elements of drama, love, tragedy and happiness that are as modern today as when penned by the Bard centuries ago, has been brought to the screen by M-G-M under the personal supervision of the late Irving Thalberg.

It has been produced with true reverence for the original play, and acted by one of the greatest casts of stars ever assembled, including: Norma Shearer, Leslie Howard, John Barrymore, Edna May Oliver, Basil Rathbone, C. Aubrey Smith, Andy Devine, Ralph Forbes, Reginald Denny, Violet Kemble Cooper.

It has been costumed gorgeously in the true spirit of the Renaissance. Many of the scenic backgrounds have been taken from paintings by the old masters. George Cukor is the director. All seats may be reserved for all performances. Get your tickets early to avoid disappointment.

Marguerite is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alger Scherlin and Leslie, the hero, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Scherlin.

LOCALS

The five county savings banks are issuing calls for depositors to bring in their pass books during March for verification in compliance with the state law which requires such action every three years.

Mr. Earl Danforth who for some time was with the Morgan Garage has reached California in his journey across the continent and is with his sons in San Diego.

Hary L. Gingras has rented the upper apartment in the Merriam house on Main street, opposite the Congregational church.

It will be well for our storekeepers to know that Governor Hurley has signed a bill compelling all retail establishments to close on Memorial Day until one o'clock.

The women of the Unitarian church will have a food sale at Alexander hall this Friday afternoon to assist the senior class trip fund.

Rev. H. F. Randolph of the Methodist church in Greenfield will observe Moody Sunday on March 7. In the morning at 11 o'clock, he will speak on "The Faith of D. L. Moody" and in the evening at 7:30 the subject will be "The Life, Times and Works of Mr. Moody," illustrated with stereopticon.

Prof. M. L. Gallagher of the Northfield schools, who will direct the rendering of Stainer's Crucifixion at the Methodist church in Greenfield, Sunday, March 21 at 4:30 now has a chorus of fifty voices. Soloists for the concert include Mrs. Robert Hale of Greenfield, soprano; Oscar McKenzie of Holyoke, tenor; J. T. Bone of Orange, bass; and Wm. S. Jeffs, accompanist.

Those who are interested in winter sports have noticed during the winter in the columns of the Boston Transcript a report on weather conditions in Northfield included with a list of various places. The report is furnished by Marston Burnett and usually given about 9 a. m. the day of publication.

The hoped for snow train to Western Massachusetts expected to have been run on the Boston & Maine railroad from Boston last Sunday was declared off on account of lack of snow suitable for skiing.

With the defeat of the Bernadston bowling team by the local team last week, our local aggregation are back in first place in the county league.

Young people of the Franklin-Millers River district held a rally at the Baptist church in Bernadston last Friday evening which was attended by a delegation from this town. Rev. W. Stanley Carne made the address and the music was made a feature of the program. The young folks largely came from the Baptist denomination.

Federal income tax collector, W. M. Welch, of Boston, has announced that deputy collectors will be at the Greenfield post office on the following dates to assist taxpayers in filing their returns: March 2 and 4 at 9:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.; March 6, 9:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m.; March 9 and 11, 9:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.; March 13, 9:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m.; March 15, 9:00 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

WELL, MY LIGHTS ARE FUNCTIONING 50%

ONE LIGHT LOUIE

Maybe that glad some day of two cars in every garage hasn't yet arrived; but certainly the day of two service stations for every corner is here. Really there is not the slightest excuse for driving with one light out nowadays because a new bulb is always available at the nearest gas station. A car with a missing glim is a source of annoyance to the motorist coming your way; also it is a source of danger, for about all one can do when approaching a one-light car is to guess which light is shining. And accident statistics show that traffic guessers mull the ball all too frequently.

During the year 1936 not a single national bank failure for the first time in the last 55 years. A fine record.

The General Grand Chapter, Order of Eastern Star dedicated its national headquarters in Washington, Feb. 24. The building is the former Perry Belmont mansion at the corner of 18th street and New Hampshire Ave.

The Back Yard Gardener

After having made that blue print garden of mine over at least five times I decided I'd better check up with my friend Lynn Lydell on some of the newer and better perennials.

As he puts it, these plant hybridizers never are satisfied with the plants we become so used to and they are sprucing them up in all sorts of new shades and colors. But that's all right with me. It's just another way of painting the garden picture.

I noticed as we looked through the garden catalogs that asters have become what you might call tamed and dwarfed and made into garden aster miniatures. They will bloom from September right through to hard frost. Varieties that we picked out include Constance which is a delicate shell pink, Snow Sprite which as you can guess is white, and Victor which is barely eight inches high and is a clear pale lavender.

Asters make fine edging plants for the garden as their foliage is always good. And speaking of edgings, there doesn't seem to be anything better than the old Chamaedry Germanider. This is an easily grown shrub-like perennial and on the coast it might even be grown as an evergreen shrub.

Japanese anemones are another late flower that are going to be included. They defy frost pretty well if placed in protected spots. Queen Charlotte is a clear pink, semi-double; September Charm is silvery pink; and Whirlwind is clear white. Here again the foliage makes a nice addition to the garden picture.

And don't forget, says Lynn, the new hardy chrysanthemums. Some of the standard ones are Early Bronze, Glory of Seven Oaks, which is a yellow, and Princess, which is white. Dwarfs are also beginning to appear in the "mums." Two that we picked out were Astrid, a shell pink, yellowish at the centers; and Amelia which is a clear pink.

Some of the day lilies ought to be included. Dr. Regel blooms as early as May and is a rich Orange yellow. Bay State comes in late June and is a clear orange. J. A. Crawford is delicate yellow and blooms from June to August, and in late July comes the lemon lily, Thunbergi.

And of course each year brings new phlox. At present Daily Sketch and P. D. Williams lead the pinks.

Then for the shady corner try snakeroot. The delicacy of the tall bending spires cannot be duplicated. Racemosa blooms in July and Simplex in October. And then that rather peculiarly named plant, Red Hot Poker, is good for the sunny corner. Red hot poker has lost some of its color in its latest variation, Tower of Gold, which is a pure yellow and blooms in August and September. I might also say that this plant needs more winter protection than most perennials.

And of course you ought to include the Globeflowers, since they are the brightest of spring blooms, at least in my estimation. Lemon Queen is a clear bright yellow, and Orange Globe is more tawny and rich in color.

For ground cover among the perennials to fill in the open spaces, Johnny-Jump-Ups are good, but they too have experienced many changes. Jersey Gem is a deep, velvety violet and a constant bloomer. Apricot has soft salmon shades, and Golden Yellow is somewhat brighter.

"NO CROSS, NO CROWN"

I sometimes think when life seems drear

And gloom and darkness gather here

When hope's bright star forsakes my skies

And sorrow in my pathway lies. It would be sweet, it would be best,

To fold my tired hands and rest; But then God sends an angel down

Who sweetly says — "No Cross, No Crown." —Anon.

COLLECTIN' STAMPS

A feller isn't thinkin' mean, Collectin' stamps;

His tho'ts are mostly good and clean

Collectin' stamps;

He doesn't knock his fellowmen

Or harbor any grudges then;

A feller's at his finest when He's collectin' stamps.

Collectin' stamps;

All brothers of a common lure,

Collectin' stamps;

The boy—the joy the reprints bring,

Can chum with millionaire and king

Vain pride is a forgotten thing

Collectin' stamps.

A feller isn't plottin' schemes

Collectin' stamps;

He's only busy with his dreams,

Collectin' stamps;

His livery is a benzine pan

His creed to do the best he can,

A feller's always mostly man,

Collectin' stamps.

EDITORIAL

Our neighboring community of Brattleboro received a mighty nice Valentine last week when it was announced that the tax rate would be reduced $3.50 per thousand this year. From the information at hand it seems to be the result of the splendid efforts of their taxpayers' association to effect an economical administration of affairs and the valued cooperation of their selectmen. Nothing succeeds like good teamwork between the citizens of a community and its elected officials.

Imagine the surprise one gets when told that the sanding of our highways this winter has cost almost as much as snow removal. With the lack of many snowfalls there has not been the usual amount of plowing but the wet snow, the sleet, the rain has kept our roads pretty icy and dangerous for travel so that it has been necessary to do a large amount of sanding and in the western part of the state as frequently as four times a day. Since motoring is a business necessity these days, transportation cannot be halted and the highways must be kept open for use. The cost of calcium chloride mixed with sand to hasten melting also adds to the cost of labor, materials and trucks. Any way those who have used the roads this winter realize that they have been splendidly maintained. And so sand becomes a valuable material.

Another observance of Washington's birthday has passed into history. As I read something of the life of this great man whose picture hangs in many of our homes and in our school buildings, I have wondered if there is any real personal inspiration from his life. George Washington set a standard of official conduct and he had a noble Christian character which combined made him indeed not only a fine leader but a noble heritage to all of us who enjoy the fruits of his labor in establishing this great nation. Washington had a simple faith in his Creator which served to strengthen him in the activities of life, made him mindful of the welfare of his men and a true exponent of justice. Truth, honor, and justice were his. What a fine thing that America can point with pride to such a fine character as was that of Washington.
